Dear [redacted]

While you were in Washington you will recall that we discussed the difficulty which had arisen in connection with the establishment of a mess at the Kawai Bureau. Since your departure it has been determined by the authorities within CIA that a Government operated mess may not be established at FBIS Field Bureaus, and I am attaching a copy of my letter to [redacted] for your information. You are cautioned that, in planning your operation on Okinawa, all efforts must be made to make use of Army facilities in your immediate vicinity, or in the event that this does not prove satisfactory, plans must be made for a strictly cooperative mess to be established with no participation on the part of the United States Government.

We are anxious to learn of your progress upon your arrival at Okinawa, and wish you every success in your endeavor in connection with the FBIS monitoring station.

Sincerely,

L. K. White
